

S-CAR/IPCR Problem-Solving Workshop Program Advanced Training in Facilitating Problem-Solving Workshop Application Form

Directions: Please fill out the application completely in order to facilitate the formation of a diverse cohort for the training program. All information will be kept confidential. Under areas of experience, please provide titles of workshops/trainings, sponsoring organizations, dates, and a one line description of each experience.

First Name: _____ Last Name: _____

Address: _____
(Street) (Apt. Number)

_____ (City) (State) (Zip)

E-mail: _____ Telephone: _____

Sex: ____ National Origin: _____ Race/ethnicity: _____

Religion: _____ Language(s): _____

Education/Training Experience

A. Degree(s) and Date(s):

B. Professional Development Training (e.g., communication skills, small group processes, leadership)

C. Conflict Resolution Training (e.g., dialogue, mediation, negotiation)

Professional Experience (e.g., dialogue facilitator, trainer, mediator)

Statement of Interest

Please provide a brief statement of your professional interests that lead you to apply to this program.

Food Preferences

Food Allergies _____

If my application is accepted, I commit to being present for the entire weekend training (April 2 -3rd, 2016). I understand that my application does not guarantee acceptance into the training program.

Signature

Date

Please note that there are limited numbers of places available so not all applications may be accepted. Please e-mail your completed application forms to Laura Villanueva lvillan2@gmu.edu [S-CAR] /Nicole Smith peace@american.edu [AU] .

The Problem-Solving Workshop Program is co-sponsored by the School for Conflict Analysis and Resolution (S-CAR) at George Mason University and the International Peace and Conflict Resolution Program (IPCR) in the School of International Service at American University.